New stores, incredible finds, secret sources

scandinavian housewares

THE BEST PLACES TO FIND THEM COAST TO COAST

JUST SCANDINAVIAN Light-filled and spacious, this just-opened Tribeca store focuses on the gorgeously offbeat, near-psychedelic textiles of Joseph Frank. Pendant lamps ($300), throw pillows stamped with little elephants, and country-style enamel crockery are also big draws. 161 HUDSON ST., NYC, 212-334-2556

FINNSTYLE Loads of abstract fabric panels cover the walls here—and they're so cool you'll want to re-cover your sofa, chairs, and bed with them. Make sure to check out the gothic glass goblets in deep plums and reds, supermod block lamps, and cork-stoppered white ceramic coffee pots. 115 WASHINGTON AVE. N, MINNEAPOLIS, 612-341-4075, FINNSTYLE.COM

KIITOS MARIMEKKO

We couldn't be more excited about this brand-new Mississippi outpost of a New York institution. It sells the same top-notch mix of Marimekko and Iittala home goods, like vibrantly printed placemats, large handblown vases, and polka-dot mugs.

403 S. LAMAR BLVD., OXFORD, MS, 800-926-2701, FINNDIXIE.COM

DNA DESIGN STUDIO While it's primarily an exclusive retailer for furniture legends like Arne Jacobsen, DNA devotes a good amount of space to tabletop items as well. We love the primary-colored pitchers, striped floor pillows by Lisbet Friis, and simple glass bowls. 1990 COLUMBIA ST., SAN DIEGO, 619-235-6882, SHOPDNAGALLERY.NET

CLEARLY FIRST Look here for forward-thinking homewares from Scandinavian up-and-comers. Standout items include delicate glass bowls from Hanna Ljungström and sculptural teacups by Anna Kraitz. 980 MADISON AVE., NYC, 212-988-8242, CLEARLYFIRST.COM

HANNEBY.COM Based in Texas, this e-commerce boutique is a terrific resource for Eva Solo stainless steel spice jars, adorable yet totally sleek bird mobiles, and fairy-tale-inspired Rosendahl china. Also on offer: an extensive selection of avant-garde lighting.
